Lessons on Politicians in Power

1639. SHRI K. R. MALKANI : Will the Minister of HUMAN RESOURCE DEVELOPMENT be pleased to state :

(a) whether it is a fact that some states are including lessons on politicians in power in school text-books; and

(b) whether Government would advise all concerned agencies not to include lessons on living personalities in text-books ?

THE DEPUTY MINISTER IN THE MINISTRY OF HUMAN RESOURCE DEVELOPMENT (DEPTT. OF EDUCATION AND DEPTT. OF CULTURE) (KM. SELJA) : (a) and (b) The National Council of Educational Research & Training (NCERT) an autonomous body funded by the Government of India, publishes school text-books for use in CBSE-affiliated schools which comprise only about 0.46% of the total number of schools in the country. The NCERT have informed that in so far their text books are concerned, they have always followed the policy of not including any lessons on living personalities who are involved mainly in political activities or are known mainly for their political work. In the matter of developing curricula, syllabi and textbooks for the large majority of schools under the control of the State Governments, the role of the NCERT is purely recommendatory, since the State Governments have full autonomy in these areas. As such, it would be appropriate if educational bodies in the States develop their own norms in regard to the desirability of including lessons on living political personalities.
